

© Victoria Hanson – victoriagracehanson@gmail.com

"I created a series of different snowflakes each with missing parts and semi-abstract; the use of glitter shows the beauty. The snowflakes represent the FASD brain and how each are equally different but equally beautiful in their own ways. That each may be missing parts but can contribute in many amazing ways."

Victoria Hanson

Victoria is a 24 year-old mother of a two-year old little girl, and is an adult with FASD.

Season's Greetings!

Together. Finding Answers. Improving Outcomes